Christmas Shopping Must Be Advanced
if Mailed Packages Are to Arrive
On Time, Postmaster Caukin Says

There can be no assurance, in view of the unavoidable handicaps of war, that gifts and cards mailed in the weeks immediately preceding Christmas will be delivered on time, Postmaster C. O. Caukins said yesterday. Such matter must not impede the movement of war materials and personnel and military mail. Transportation facilities are heavily burdened. The number of railway cars and airplanes available for handling Christmas mail is far below that of former years. Facilities simply are not available to transport and deliver, in the last three weeks before Christmas, the tremendous quantities of mail that were heretofore moved in that period.

More than 30,000 postal employees have gone into the armed forces. They have been largely replaced with less experienced personnel.

The only way, therefore, in which deliveries of Christmas mails can be made on time is by spreading the mailings over a longer period so that available transportation equipment and postal personnel can be used during more weeks.

The postal service today is delivering record-breaking volumes of mail and also is performing huge extraordinary wartime tasks. The Christmas mails will be in addition to all these services, which must be kept at maximum efficiency. There must be public cooperation if these mails are to be delivered on time.

Rowdiness is Absent on Hallowe'enPolice Precautions Result in Most Orderly Observance in Many Years

Hallowe'en was so quiet and orderly in Sierra Madre that even the police were surprised, though precautions taken by police themselves to prevent the destruction of property were responsible.

Every member of the police department, four-fifths of the city firemen and the auxiliary police officers of the Civilian Defense Corps in uniform were on duty from sundown until midnight on both Saturday and Sunday nights. Their presence was responsible for the early departure of several carloads of boys and girls from Monrovia, Arcadia and Pasadena who have been in the habit of coming to Sierra Madre for their Hallowe'en pranks, believing the police here were more tolerant than in their own home towns. Presence of all the officers and the evident fact that rowdiness would not be tolerated caused many of the city's own youngsters bent on mischief to go elsewhere.

Quick action by the police in rounding up half a dozen youths who began Hallowe'en pranks as early as last Thursday evening also had a sobering effect. These boys cut loose in the downtown district and were taken to the police station.

Net result of it all was that the number of complaints from citizens was negligible. There were no palm tree fires, as in recent years; no smashing of trolley car windows or the hurling of unripe oranges and over-ripe tomatoes into automobiles. One group of boys, armed with a wrench, turned on several fire hydrants but abandoned their campaign when police were hot on their trail.

Lieut. Com. Storm to Enlist WAVES in Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre has entered the WAVE recruiting campaign which is being carried on vigorously throughout Southern California, with keen inter-county rivalry. Though some Sierra Madre women have shown an interest in joining, no quota has been assigned the city, as in the case of most other communities. Following a meeting of mayors of Los Angeles county cities with Lieut. Commander L. D. Blanchard, officer in charge of Navy recruiting, last Friday, Mayor John Froehlich this week appointed Lieut. Commander Joseph W. Storm, retired, of 80 E. Laurel ave., to take charge of WAVE enlistments here. Commander Storm's telephone number is 6595 and he will be glad to give interested persons all possible information about requirements for and life in the Navy, together with duties assigned WAVE enlistees.

Temperatures Drop
With Second Rain

Early morning temperatures fell below the 50 degree mark following the light drizzles of last Thursday and Friday, maximum temperatures being held under 80. The misty rainfall of Thursday measured .06 and that on Friday .04 at the city water plant, bringing the season's total to .57 compared with 1.15 inches at this time in 1942. Temperatures for the week have been:

in "Triple Threat" Contest;
Grammar Pupils Near Goal

St. Rita's parochial school has gone over the top in its "Triple Threat" campaign. The pupils have turned in the necessary $3000 realized through the sale of War Stamps for the purchase of a Jeep, a Grasshopper and a Quack, for the Army. The money has been turned over to the proper division of the War Bond section of the Treasury Department which has written a letter warmly commending the pupils and school officers for their patriotic zeal.

The grammar school pupils are within sight of their goal, having collected $2160.10 through the sale of War Stamps. They expect to go over the top by November 15 and a little friendly rivalry between the various grades will likely accomplish their object.

Miss Newton's class, which has sold $814.25 in War Stamps, tops the list this week. Miss Mary Pfahler's class with $309.40 to its credit, is second, and Miss Lusted's room, with $234.95, is third.

The Triple Threat contest is being carried on by schools throughout the nation. The $3000 to be raised by each school will buy three pieces of motorized equipment for the fighting forces.

Proposed New
Curfew Law
is OpposedPetitions Out Here and Constitutionality Attacked
in San Bernardino

Constitutionality of the proposed new curfew ordinance now before the Sierra Madre city council for final action has been attacked by an Upland couple fined by the city judge of that city for the violation of that ordinance by their son. The case is before the Superior court of San Bernardino county.

The ordinance under attack has been adopted by a majority of the cities of Los Angeles and other Southern California counties since America's entry into the world war and the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency. It holds parents of offending boys and girls of 18 years and younger responsible for violations by their children and subjects them to a fine or imprisonment, or both.

Petitions are in circulation protesting against adoption of the ordinance here and will probably be presented to the council at its meeting next Tuesday evening, at which time action by the council is scheduled. Two of the petitions are being circulated by girls who are said to be mainly responsible for the opposition. It is ridiculous, they contend, to adopt a law that boys and girls under 18 shall not be permitted on the streets after 9 o'clock at night when the Navy accepts boys of 17 for service and they are subject to the draft law at the age of 18.

Citrus Authority to Address Local Garden Club Monday

Dr. Marvin Rounds of the U. S. Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside, California's leading authority on citriculture and avocado production, will be the principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club at 6:30 Monday evening in the Masonic Temple, E. Sierra Madre Blvd. L. M. Gridland of Foothill Blvd., noted iris and bulb grower, will talk about the culture of iris and exhibit some rare specimens. There will be the dual Victory Garden question box and discussion which is always one of the most interesting features of the club meetings.

President Moot of the club reports that among the many new members taken into the organization are a number of newcomers who have bought homes here recently.

Here on a Visit

Captain Charles Tucker of the U. S. Army Air Force, delighted the Lee Shippey family Sunday by a surprise visit. He is an old friend of the Shippey boys, all of whom are now in the armed forces: Capt. Tucker has been in the Air Force two and a half years, 18 months of which he spent in China. He has 75 sorties to his credit, and has won the Distinguished Flying Cross. Also while in China he had the honor of meeting General Chiang-Kai-shek.

He was shot down in Indo-China, and walked 100 miles before he was rescued. Now he is at home in Montrose for a six months' leave to rest and recuperate, and is rapidly regaining his strength.

Campaign for War Chest
Under WayPatriotic Women Workers
Cover One-Third of Population in Three Days

Wherever the Jap or Nazi boot has marched, it has crushed under its heel the homes, the food, the bodies, the hopes, the souls of men, women and children.

These men, women and children are our friends, our Allies, and it is inconceivable that we would not extend to them all possible help. It is inconceivable, too, that we would not help American fighting men who have gone forth to bring freedom back to the world, and the families these men have left behind them.

Agencies were formed to provide aid to our friends, our own fighting men here and across the world, and the needy here on the home front.

There were many agencies; had to be, and they all came to you asking for help, and your heart could say "no" to none. But it was confusing.

In order to eliminate that confusion, 17 war relief agencies were combined into one campaign—into the National War Fund. You give to this unified fund and you have given to 17 agencies. You give once, for all these!

The War Fund is officially endorsed by the President. It has the backing of the government as an improvement over the old confusing way of raising money. It permits you to budget your wartime giving more easily. Yet it does not intrude upon the autonomy of any of these agencies. The USO, China Relief, British War Relief, and all the others will be left under their present efficient and experienced directors. They will be freed from the task of raising money, and be able to devote full time to their good works, and you will not have to dig down so often that your pocket becomes frayed at the edges.

Because you will be asked to give but ONCE . . . we ask you to give unstintingly . . . for victory!

Make out your check now—but before you sign it, stop a minute. Take the amount you just wrote on your check. Divide it into 17 parts. Would you be proud or a little ashamed to give that much to each one separately? Is that enough for you to pay for one year, for your share of the victory?

Be honest. Remember, your money will never buy more than what you buy when you give to the National War Fund.

Reports from a hundred workers who are giving of their time and energy patriotically, indicate that they have interviewed somewhat more than a third of the citizens of Sierra Madre. Some are somewhat disappointed at the lack of interest shown in so great a cause by some of our residents, but are undismayed and are going about their task diligently.

For the most part, however, the reports are good. Some report they have been unable to contact residents in the territory assigned them after repeated calls. Those who may be missed by the volunteer workers are asked to please leave their contributions at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, which will accept them for the War Chest committee and see that proper credit is given.

—MRS. HAROLD DRURY,
War Chest Publicity Chairman.

Federal Aid Needed by the SchoolGreatly Increased
Attendance Due to War
Jumps Operating Costs

Parents of Sierra Madre grammar school pupils have been asked to cooperate with Supt. Henry Korsemeier and the district school board to hold down the local school tax rate by filling out and promptly returning a questionnaire that has been sent them through their children.

Purpose of the questionnaire is to secure information upon which to base a request for Federal aid under the Lanham Act of 1941. Enrollment at the school has increased 18 per cent over that of a year ago. Unless this Federal aid is forthcoming there must be an increase in the local school levy, it is pointed out.

The average daily attendance allowance by the state will be based on the daily attendance during the last school year when there were 443 pupils. As of Monday the number of pupils was 521. It is hoped to secure an allowance of approximately $5000 from the government to cover the resultant increased cost of operating the school.

If it is possible to show that the increased enrollment is due principally to the presence here of families engaged in the important war industries there is more than a reasonable chance that the allowance to be asked for will be granted. Supt. Henry Korsemeier is confident answers of parents will justify the request for U. S. aid. His letter to the parents reads as follows:

"The enrollment of the Sierra Madre City School has increased over 17% since last year. This increase has caused a problem in financing the cost of operating the school for the current school year. An application to the Federal Works Agency for assistance is being prepared, and your help is necessary to qualify for financial aid from federal funds. We must have answers to the questions listed at the bottom of this sheet to determine how the war effort has influenced the increase in our school enrollment. A satisfactory application may mean $4000 or $5000 to this school district. May we have an early response to these questions?"

Parents are asked to give their occupations, name and address of their employers and whether or not the employer is engaged in a war industry. Also they are asked to answer the question, "Were you forced to move because your former home was sold on account of war activities?"

BOMBARDIER HERO
IS A VISITOR HERE

Bombardier Flyer George Allen, nephew of Mrs. George A. Dudley of Six T Oaks, has just returned from the South Pacific on furlough. While in the South Pacific his bomber crashed, and he was blinded and had both arms broken. He is in fine shape again now.

He has received two citations from Washington.

Local Taxes Became
Due Monday; Bills
are Coming Soon

Though the tax bills have not yet started to arrive, 1943-44 Sierra Madre city and Los Angeles county taxes became due and payable Monday. Both taxes may be paid in whole or in two installments. The first installment will become delinquent and subject to a penalty if not paid by Dec. 5. Where taxes are paid by installment, the second payment will be due Jan. 20, 1944 and will become delinquent if not paid by April 20, 1944.

Flyer Brother of
Sierra Madre Woman
Missing in Action

Mrs. Eber Thomas of 823 Canyon Crest drive, has received word from her brother in Long Beach that her brother, 2nd Lt. Homer Silver, is reported missing in action. The War Department sent the news to Mr. Silver in a telegram, with the notification that further news of the missing officer will at once be forwarded.

Lt. Silver had been flying U. S. fortresses from England. He is 30 years old, and has been in the Army since April, 1942. Most of his life was lived in Long Beach, and before joining the service he was a police officer on the Signal Hill force.

Observations

By LEE SHIPPEY

I AM on the spot because I promised Fred LaLone I would summarize the achievements of the Triple-F. S. and now I have mislaid the notes he carefully got up for me. But even I, who have been working with them, was astonished at the totals. For one thing, a new fire-break to protect Sierra Madre was built, stretching 7000 feet. Some 19,000 feet of highway shoulder has been cleared of inflammable material. More fires start along the edge of highways than anywhere else, because so many motorists—and hikers, too—were born foolish and had a relapse. They thoughtlessly flick cigarette stubs and matches they think are out out the car windows. The Triple-F. S. boys have done a lot of work along trails, too, and after bad fires have gone to the warehouse in Arcadia to recondition tools. Some of the women's auxiliary have helped out a good deal at the warehouse, too. Anyone who has tried to hire a 16-year-old boy to mow a lawn knows you can't get any help under 50 cents an hour now, yet these men—and women—have worked for nothing at all, and if they had been paid 50 cents an hour the cost would have been over $3200.

The value of this training and experience was shown when several detachments of these men were called on to fight the big fire at Castiac, where all of them served as crew leaders.

These men have been meeting at the city hall for breakfast every second and fourth Sunday morning. I think the Forest Service has been supplying those breakfasts. Now, Fred says, some technicality has arisen, and the citizens must be asked to help out. It may well be that this volunteer work has prevented a disastrous fire in our vicinity.

"It's a great life and I have enjoyed every minute of it," former Mayor Tom Schwartz told friends when he arrived home from the Naval Training Station at San Diego Tuesday on a week's leave following completion of his preliminary training as honor man in a class of 160. He has gained 12 pounds. "And I never felt better in my life," he says.

Probably knowing there wasn't a chance that it would get by the censor, Capt. Claire Langley had little to say about a Japanese flag he sent his father, Alvin Langley, from "somewhere" in the Southwest Pacific—probably New Guinea where he was stationed for a time after the capture of Guadalcanal, and where he is known to have been bayoneted by a Jap in one of the early New Guinea actions. The accompanying brief letter, which arrived Monday, said it had been "taken from a Jap" in action. Stains that the censor could not have removed indicated that it was either a dead or badly injured Jap.

Pfc. William Ernest ("Bill") Jenkins, former Sierra Madre postman, was graduated from the Armament School at Lowry Field, Colo., Monday. He had been in training there since the middle of August. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps Reserve a year ago last month and took his primary training immediately after being called for service at Boulder City, Nev., being later sent to Fresno for basic. TEXAS NAVY MAN COMES HERE TO BE MARRIED

Arthur B. Knight, Seaman 2/c U. S. Navy, took as his bride Miss Neva June Jackson, at the Nazarene parsonage in Sierra Madre, at 2 p.m., Wednesday, October 27. Rev. Thelma Steelman officiated. Both bride and bridegroom came here from Beaumont, Texas.

It was a simple wedding, before a small group of close friends. The bride wore a pink wool suit with navy accessories, and her flowers were white roses and orange blossoms. Her sister, Mrs. Margaret Nance of Sierra Madre, was matron of honor, and wore a Nile-green tailored suit with brown accessories. Bruce Nance was best man for the bridegroom.

The young couple departed for parts unknown after the reception.

Sunday evening, November 14, at 7:30, Gustave Rihard will present Priscilla Gabriel Young in a piano recital at the Woman's clubhouse. She will play both classical and modern compositions including the Mozart Sonata in C Major.

Priscilla is quite a talented little pianist as those who heard her play over KPPC and at the Gold Shell in Pasadena will agree. She is a member of the Pasadena Junior Musicals. She is the daughter of Capt. H. L. Young, U.S.N., who is now at sea in the Pacific, and the granddaughter of Capt. and Mrs. Harry E. Gabriel, formerly of 145 E. Alegria ave.

The public is cordially invited.

Public is Invited to Send Exhibits to Annual Flower Show of Woman's Society of Congregational Church

The annual flower show of the Congregational Church Women's Society, an event eagerly anticipated by Sierra Madreans, will be held this year on Friday, November 12, from 2 to 5:30 p.m. in Pritchard Hall. The flower arrangements, as well as the exhibits of all garden flowers, plants, vegetables and fruits, are all open to public competition.

Almost as attractive as the flowers will be the booths where aprons, oil paintings, stuffed toys, neckties, white elephants, and cooked food will be on sale. The turkey dinner of other years will be replaced this year by a silver tea. A musical program is planned for the afternoon.

General chairman in charge is Mrs. Convers L. Twycross, and assisting her are Mrs. W. S. Hull, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Robert Baugh; garden flowers and plants, Mrs. W. E. Doty; vegetables, Mrs. A. J. Barkman;

Room Teas at Grammar School Bring Mothers Into Touch With School Life of Their Children

Last of a series of Parent-Teacher Association room teas that has been in progress since the beginning of the school year will be held next Wednesday, Nov. 10.

The association offers parents a way to share their child's school life, and offers association with parents and teachers who share the same school interests and experiences. A realization of this objective has been made possible by the series of teas.

Teas have been held in all the rooms and parents and teachers feel that no other occasion offers such an opportunity for understanding common problems, as well as sharing a delightful social experience. At each tea Superintendent Korsemeier gives an instructive talk to the parents and teachers.

The following are room mothers who have presided at the teas and the grades they represent: Mrs. R. E. Toms is room mother chairman. For the kindergarten the room mothers are Mrs. T. E. Dammeier, Mrs. Al Miller, Mrs. S. A. Bradshaw; first grade, Mrs. Frederic Groetsema, Mrs. Harry Lange, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Peterson; second grade, Mrs. Jacobson, Mrs. Tarrup and Mrs. Perkins; third grade, Mrs. Cline, Mrs. O'Donnell, Mrs. Glass, Mrs.

Carl Hanson, Mrs. J. J. O'Conner and Mrs. Walter Nollac; fourth grade, Mrs. Rizzo, Mrs. DeBorde, Mrs. Sam Haskins and Mrs. Clarence Schurr; fifth grade, Mrs. Spillane, Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Worthington and Mrs. Miller; sixth grade, Mrs. Ross Marshall, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Ferris, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Tarrwater; seventh grade, Mrs. John Clauss, Mrs. Maltby, Mrs. DeVous, Mrs. Whiteley and Mrs. Simpson; eighth grade, Mrs. Sam Peterson, Mrs. Milo Sabin and Mrs. McClelland.

One Grammar School Room Shows Big Increase for PTA

The recent grammar school contest for membership in the Parent-Teacher Association, of which Mrs. J. E. Stillane of 735 Canyon Crest drive was the chairman, closed with Miss Pfahler's room well in the lead by 177% increase in members. The pupil who brought in the highest number of new members was Sylvia Worthington.

Membership of parents is still requested, and the children will be glad to take names to their teacher.

Sierra Madre Woman Makes President's Gifts for Crippled Children

Mrs. Harry F. Noake of 585 Manzanita ave. is doing a wonderful work for crippled children. With greeting cards which she receives from the President of the United States, she makes scrap books which are sent all over the United States to the hospitals, schools, and homes for these young sufferers.

When Mrs. Noake receives the cards she cuts out the pictures and arranges and pastes them in the books in story form to represent musical titles. There are 30 or more pages in the books, and the clever arrangement of the colorful designs and pictures makes a beautiful gift.

Always this artistic lady makes up a book for the President's grandchildren, and to date she has received 13 letters from the White House in acknowledgment of her work.

When sending these books to the institutions, Mrs. Noake encloses a letter, pasted to the inside cover, explaining that the cards have been sent from the President.

Observance of Girl Scout Week in Full Swing Today

National Girl Scout Week opened Sunday, the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low who founded Girl Scouting in America in 1912. Local troops are in the midst of a full week of celebrations. Troop No. 3 made and issued invitations to mothers for the investiture which will be held today (Thursday, Nov. 4), at 3:45 p.m. in the music room at the grammar school.

Troop No. 2 met with Mrs. Sam Haskins last week and completed part of their activities toward the Hostess Badge. Members planned and made the table center and set the table.

Miss Dorothy Hande of Pasadena concluded her Girl Scout training course Thursday evening, Oct. 28 at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Spencer, 139 W. Orange Grove ave. About 20 attended the different courses and were there for the final evening. Dramatics, singing and the outdoor programs were explained with a closing half hour for problems. Mrs. Spencer served refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Sam Haskins.

Press Chairman.

UP TO HOUSEWIVES

Part-time work by housewives in war industry is proposed by the Manpower Mobilization Committee of the San Francisco area as the only means of meeting the expanding contribution demanded by the rising tide of war in the Pacific.

The increased war work must be done by people already in California, the Committee points out, since there are no living accommodations or other facilities for additional people. Its survey shows that housewives are the only group left in the State which has not yet been fully mobilized for war industries.

But before a woman applies for or accepts a part-time job outside her home, the Committee explained that there are things she should do in order to make sure that she can stay on the job. She must first put her home in good working order so that it will not be necessary for her to be absent from work in order to take care of its needs. She must make sure the household wheels are working properly, with a minimum of effort and no time wasted, before she can take on the job of war.

The Manpower Committee believes women can do it simply because many women already are doing it. Their aid is recognized not simply as important, but imperative.

So, the efficiency experts of additional millions of American homes may shortly transfer their talents to the war plants, shouldering the double responsibility of helping to win the war abroad, while performing their usual domestic duties in their own homes as well.

A GOOD SIGN

Three million six hundred seventy-five thousand families intend to buy automobiles to cost $3,307,500,000 when the war is over. Household appliance purchases will be $1,215,910,000. Overall home-furnishings purchase intentions are $711,410,000. One million five hundred and forty thousand families intend to build or buy a new home within six months.

These figures come from a new survey which shows that post-war purchases of the American public will be far in excess of those estimated last December in a similar survey.

This is encouraging not only because the rise shows that people seem to have been saving their wages instead of squandering them and contributing to inflation; it is heartening because this pent-up demand means industrial activity, and that means jobs.

Industry now has a pretty good idea of the post-war picture. It is making post-war plans—practical post-war plans. All it needs now is some assurance that controls will be lifted after the war, so that it can forge ahead on its own post-war job-giving backlog of orders.

Here and There

by DEAN A. G. H. BODE

SOMETHING more should be told about seamen "here and there." I should not forget to tell how most deep-sea sailors entering a port look for a certain flag, blue, with either a white flying angel or a slim red cross upon it. This is the flag which has often meant safety and comfort to them in ports like Honolulu, Sydney, Newcastle, Cape Town, Valparaiso, Hamburg, New York, and British ports—almost any important port in the world. It flies over what are named here: "Seamen's Church Institutes." These institutes provide for the seamen far from home, and often temporarily "on the beach," that is, without a ship, a home away from home, where he can have lodging and board (even if he cannot pay the small cost), recreation, opportunities for writing and reading, for storing his baggage and papers of value, for banking his pay before it can be stolen or wasted, for receiving letters which have been kept for him while he was on the high seas. The Institute welcomes merchant seamen of all nations and any color, active in their calling, sober in their conduct, and honest in their ways. A sympathetic friend and counselor is always present, and on Sundays men like to meet in the chapel for services, adjourning for coffee and "sinks." Deep sea sailors—"they that go down to the sea in ships"—like to keep up religion and fellowship so. These Institutes were started 100 years ago by kindly members of the Church of England with voluntary contributions, and flew the flying angel flag. Naturally they became independent here and changed the flag slightly.

SEAMEN are found to be the most generous and honest of men, sharing with one another and paying what they owe. Recently a seaman, after long voyages, came back to the Institute at San Pedro and handed over forty dollars, the cost of his maintenance there when out of work long before. Thirty years ago there was no such Institute in San Pedro. A man had only the sidewalk, the saloon, the shabby boarding house and the prospect of being robbed. Some of us, well acquainted with Seamen's Institutes in other parts of the world, succeeded in establishing a fine one on the water front in San Pedro. Incidentally, it will share in the benefits of the War Chest in the Los Angeles area. The great 13-story Institute on Short st., New York, cares for multitudes of seamen, especially the ship-wrecked and torpedoed, has traced thousands of missing men, and connected them with their families, and is honored and beloved by seamen all over the world.

NOW let us go to a distant port—Aden in Arabia, at the entrance to the Red Sea. We are going to see an example of the white officials' justice in foreign parts. Our ship is off a barren shore, and young Arabs are aboard calling "Have a dive, have a dive." Passengers are throwing silver "annas," like our dimes, into the ocean, and some Arab boys are diving for them. Another Arab boy has come aboard to exchange Indian for European money, which will soon be needed by the passengers. One very much spoiled young man, traveling probably for the peace of his family, cheated the Arab boy out of some of the money due him. The Arab, knowing a little English, kept repeating "Gimme my money," till the quartermaster ordered him off the ship. The loss of an anna or a dime would be like losing a day's wage to the boy, and for a time we heard him crying in his catamaran—a hollow log with an outrigger to keep it from capsizing—"Gimme my money." The ship's propeller began to make some preliminary turns, whereupon the boy swiftly paddled to shore, and in about fifteen minutes, just as the ship was starting, a voice came over the water: "Ship ahoy!" Our vessel stopped, the catamaran appeared with the Arab boy and a fat gentleman in pajamas, who climbed on deck and explained to the waiting captain that money was owed to the Arab. The spoiled young man who owed it was for "smashing the gentleman's fat face," but the captain said shortly: "Pay or go ashore." He paid. At Brindisi, the next port, he left us.

I THINK this incident, which happened 50 years ago, well illustrates the white man's justice. Certainly in those days the Arab native was perfectly sure he would obtain justice from a white official if he did not get it from a spoiled white globe-trotting youth. The white man, without hesitating an instant, got out of bed at night, stopped an

More women are working in California than ever before—an estimated 350,000. Of these, 281,330 are in industries. This latter figure has leaped from 67,000 in March of 1940. But in spite of this increase, the number of female employees in our State is far behind our proportion for the country as a whole. In other words, we have about 6 per cent of the total national population in California, but we have only 2 per cent of the nation's 17,000,000 working women. This accounts in some degree for the desperate labor shortage which continues to plague the Coast. The question is: What is the remedy? In some Eastern cities housewives were appealed to through door-to-door campaigns. Many were found who were willing to work but thought they couldn't do anything to help. When convinced that they could render real service, they accepted full or part-time jobs. Not all women find it possible to work in shipyards or factories, but they can help in stores and other businesses vital to the home front. For instance, the retail food industry has been recognized as so important that in several California areas the War Manpower Commission has placed it in the "essential to the war effort" category, giving its employees the same vital status as that of war plant workers. Here is but one of the many close-to-home businesses in which women can perform a genuine service—and incidentally increase the family income. The sooner more women are willing to leave home—even if only for a few hours a day—the sooner we'll win this war and bring our boys back home.

In spite of shortage of medical facilities in many places, the picture of civilian health in the United States is generally good, according to data from the U.S. Public Health Service, the War Manpower Commission, and the Federal Works Agency. In 1942 the death rate was lowest on record, 10.3 per thousand, the birth rate had risen to 20.7 from 18.7 per thousand in 1941, and the maternal mortality rate dropped for the thirteenth consecutive year.

American soldiers are being issued a lighter, sturdier and shorter bayonet. The blade has been shortened by Ordnance from 16 to 10 inches, its weight reduced considerably, and its battle use improved. The new bayonet can also be used as a trench knife. It has been welcomed by our soldiers in jungle warfare. The British use a seven inch triangular blade, the Russians about the same type which is never detached from the rifle. By switching to the shorter blade, Ordnance has saved more than 200 tons of high carbon steel.

How did the "jeep" get its name?

The original Army specification for this bantam scout car called for a "general purpose" vehicle. Later this was shortened to "GP" to speed paper work and slurring of the two letters together in pronunciation coined the new word.

A total of 354,176 out-of-state passenger care entered Southern California in 1941, while the 1942 recording showed the aggregate to be 246,346. In the first six months of 1943, the out-of-state car reading was 78,496, indicating the year's total will be in the neighborhood of 160,000.

Thirty-five tanks can be built with the steel saved by the reduction of last year's Pennsylvania automobile license plates to the current smaller size.

Nationwide statistics show that pedestrians are becoming the No. 1 traffic accident victims of America and the same story holds true through the 13 southern counties. Incomplete reports through the first seven months of 1943 disclose that 769 persons have met death in automobile accidents, and of this total, 366, or 47.6 per cent, have been pedestrians. Out of 421 automobile accident fatalities through the first seven months of 1943 in Los Angeles County, 55 per cent — 234 — were pedestrians, while in Santa Barbara County, 13 out of 19 automobile accident victims over the same period were "on foot" for a percentage of 68. In San Diego County the percentage was 57.

THINGS TO COME—Power lawnmowers using "needle bearings" for smooth operation, designed and now used for ammunition hoists or bombers... An X-ray photo unit which operates so fast, by use of electronics that it can take two separate photos of a bullet in flight, in an elapsed time of a millionth of a second... A perpetual disk calendar in a Victory model made from wood instead of metal, and good until 1957.

ARCHBISHOP JOHN J. MITTY—"It is increasingly evident that all social forces must work together toward the solution of the child delinquency problem. The common goal is the development of a Christian character in our children."

Make your light go farther
WITHOUT INCREASING COST OR USE OF ELECTRICITY

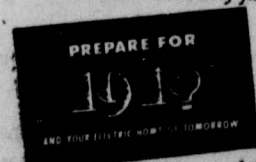

Your eyes probably are working harder and longer these days. But with proper illumination, reading, writing and all close visual tasks are easier... your eyes are protected against strain. By making better use of your present lighting equipment, you can improve the illumination in your home. You will enjoy greater living convenience, your home will be brighter and more pleasant. Here are two easy ways to make your light go farther without increasing the cost or use of electricity.

By raising a table lamp, you can provide a wider throw of light. This permits more than one person to make full use of its illumination. Use a higher table, or place books or any solid object under the lamp base.

Dirty and dust on bulbs and lamp shades take a heavy toll of light. Wash frequently all lighting glassware—globes and diffusing bowls—in warm soap suds. Dust, brush or dry clean lamp shades.
